

West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Institute

January 12, 2009

Dear Sir/Madam:

It is our pleasure to announce that the West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Institute (WTACI) is currently seeking applicants for undergraduate and graduate academic scholarships for the 2009 year. Please post the following announcement in areas of the department where potential scholarship recipients may view the applications procedures and qualifications.

The WTACI, founded in 1953, is an unincorporated organization of dealers, industry representatives, agricultural producers, scientists, educators, and agribusiness members who support education and research programs promoting safe and effective use of agricultural chemicals and protection and preservation of the area's natural resources. Since 2001, the WTACI has awarded $47,000.00 in scholarships. 2008 scholarship winners were Kristin A. Phillips ($1,000) and Andrew J. Bloodworth ($1,500) both M.S. candidates at Texas Tech University.

We appreciate your willingness and look forward to providing potential scholarships to interested students. Please feel free to make copies and distribute to other departments and students as needed. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at the addresses below.

Sincerely,

Terry Campbell
